OkTataByebye.com recently launched Driving Directions. Driving Holidays have never been this easy! As a useful and much awaited first, this travel community website now has hundreds of driving directions from key cities of India to various tourist destinations. Contributed by members, these directions are simple, practical and well tried out. Another delightful feature - one can even ask for the directions as an SMS to the mobile phone. Members can find, share and add new routes to their favourite tourist destinations making this even more interactive and rich.

India's most comprehensive online travel community, Oktatabyebye.com. India's first online travel community, Oktatabyebye.com has over 10,000 members, 186 travelogues, and more than 1060 photographs. The community focuses on travel in India and is the best place for travel enthusiasts to find and share experiences and travel advice. It enables travellers to capture and share travelogues, photos, videos, destination features, reviews and recommendations on hotels with friends, family and members. You can even plan trips, join trips or search like-minded travel buddies here. Comments and votes ensure that the information is always up-to-date, useful and remains transparent.
